N. J. Foss of Cornish is here with Horse Doctor Keene, Jennie V. with a record of 2:24 1/4 and Cousin Madge. These horses have raced at Sebago, Cornish, Livermore Falls, Lewiston and Bethel.
Brunswick is represented here by I. R. Morrill with Ravenna Wilkes, Butcher Boy, green trotter, and Ella Forest.
An addition of 100 feet has been made to the lower end of the line of sheds, containing 10 stalls.
Down in the Robinson stalls are three of the cutest little black and white kittens that ever a horseman had for a mascot.

In the Lower Hall.

F. A. Shurtleff & Co. of South Paris are here located and have a big exhibition of Edison phonographs and records. This is in charge of A. L. Clark. They deal out music ready-made for the assembled multitude.
L. M. Longley, the Norway plumber has his usual good display of bath room fixtures. They are modern and of special interest to all who think of building.
W. C. Williams & Co. of Readfield, wire jewelry and engraved goods. Mr. Williams has exhibited here for the past eight years. He has been at the fairs all over the State this year and says he wouldn't miss the Oxford county fair as he is always used well and does a good business.
Daniel Palmer of Old Orchard, burnt work on leather and novelties of all kinds in this line of work. Mr. Palmer was awarded a gold medal at the World's fair and shows some fine goods.

Word Personal to Advertisers.

The Daily Advertiser is with you once more. It's been a year since our last issue. It comes to you this time, as in the past, "loaded" with paid advertising from the live, active business firms of the two villages.
Look it over and read it and remember that the firms herein represented ask for your trade and our business. Patronize them. They are worthy of it.
This is the eleventh time we have been before you with a Fair Daily edition. We thank you for your continued patronage and hope to be with you for many years to come.
F. W. SANBORN, Norway.

P. S. Every advertiser in this paper is entitled to a reasonable number of copies of this edition. Orders received by telephone or by mail.

To the Fair Daily Readers.

Tomorrow you all want to secure a Daily Fair Advertiser. It will be on the grounds just before you go home, so you can read about the fair on your way home. You will not have to carry it around but a little while, so it will not bother in that respect, and again you will have so many sights to see on the grounds you will not want to stop to read during the hours of the day when the fair is in progress.
There will be a copy on the grounds for everyone who wishes one till the edition of three thousand is exhausted. Carry it home and show it to your friends. The first and only fair daily issued exclusively for a fair. It also has the honor of being the first daily published in Oxford County, and it has been in existence (for fair week) for eleven successive years.
Our advertisers are the most progressive business men in this section. Study what they say carefully. They are reliable. It may be of much value to you in buying your fall and winter supplies.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Sudden Death.

A. M. Whiteley of New York City, who came to visit his cousin, Mrs. Chas. Evans two weeks ago Saturday, died very suddenly at Mrs. Evans' residence Friday night, Sept. 7.
He had been at the White Mountains the past two months for his health as he was suffering from consumption but thought that he was getting better and was on his return home.
Mr. Whiteley was an employee of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad and was 49 years old. His brother, C. A. Whiteley, came to Norway and took the remains to New York on Monday.

Fatality Among Dogs and Cats.

Three dogs which have lived on or near Paris street have died under suspicious circumstances, also three cats.
This has occurred in the past six months. Charles W. Chick on Paris street has lost two cats and a Shepherd dog he prized highly. George E. Tabbs' brown spaniel recently died and Chas. B. Hamilton also had a dog die. J. N. Favor lost an Angora cat. All of these have showed marked symptoms of arsenic poisoning. How and by whom administered is unknown.
W. E. Perkins, the teamster on Beal street, had a sick dog showing similar symptoms of the other dogs but he managed to save it.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frost have moved from Brookline to Roxbury, Mass.

A good play presented by a good company to a good sized house, was the verdict of those who attended "Under Southern Skies," at the opera house on Thursday evening. This play, and others by the same author, such as "Way Down East," always receive liberal patronage when produced by such a company of artists as this company has.

THE HORSES.

The horses are looking well. With the track in excellent condition, every thing points to some of the best racing ever seen on this track. Horsemen say there are more good horses here than ever before.
Wm. Gregg of Andover has four starters. Northland Logic started for the first time at Bethel and made a record of 2:23 1/4. He has Alacaymont, with a record of 2:22 1/4, owned by H. S. Hastings of Newry Corner. Gregg also has Northland Carolyn, green mare that made a mark at Bethel of 2:22 1/4 and Joe B. Nelson.
C. M. Head of Buckfield has two two-year-olds, Enis Weston and Marcus. These horses are out for the first time. P. R. Jordan is in charge of these horses.
From here they will go to Canton fair. Three promising horses are those owned by G. L. Davis of East Somerville, Mass. He has Wallace H., no record, Autobahn, a trotter, and Chazy Belle. Northland Carolyn and from here covered the fair at Bethel and Fryeburg, and later will go to Bridgton and Fryeburg.
L. E. Faunce of Mechanic Falls has Flashlight. This is a green horse with four weeks handlings. Started at Canton first and has won 2:50 race at Windham. L. E. Faunce is a well known horseman and has been coming here for several years. F. L. Patch is in charge of this horse.
Alvolo, the famous bay stallion, is here again this year. This is the Chas. H. Milliken horse of Mechanic Falls, whose colt Ismailian, made the fast time at Lewiston this year. Alvolo made his record of 2:25 1/4 at Nashua this season.
H. Hudson & Sons of Guilford have three horses. There is Frank S. with a mark of 2:16 1/4 that will be entered in the free for all. Exeoma, a Kentucky bred, green mare, sister to Alberta with a mark of 2:15 1/4. Exeoma is a three-year-old trotter and has not been marked, and Olive Star, also of Kentucky breed. These horses have so far been seen at Bangor, Lewiston and Waterville this season and later will go to Canton, Fryeburg and Topsham.
E. J. Inby of Rockland has five horses that have already been started at Bangor, Waterville and Lewiston. He has Perin 2:18 1/4, Miss Edith 2:24 1/4, Fitzgerald 2:25 1/4, Fairy Wilkes 2:25 1/4, and a two-year-old Chestnut filly, Rubiyat.
John B. Robinson of Oxford has Baroness Hugonot and Masterpieces. Neither of these horses have a record but have been started at Canton, Rumford, Livermore and Lewiston. Mr. Robinson is the well-known horseman, and has also four promising colts. One is a sire of Wooder by Young King and dam by Woodward. One is by Kingthorpe, dam by Sadie L., 2:18 by Wilton, and the others by Chimes and dam by Red Wilkes; her nily is by Count Direct by Direct Hall.
C. Sullivan of Rumford Falls has the chestnut horse King's Own by Alacaymont, dam by Griffam that will start in the slow races.
F. O. Walker's horses of Rumford Falls are here. There is Lella Wilkes 2:21 1/4 by Alacaymont, Gaslight 2:25 1/4 by Blue Dan, W. A. Nelson is in charge of these horses and he has The Commodore owned by Z. W. Morse of Rumford Falls. The Commodore is a green horse and ranks as one of the best green horses in the State. He has been second in a mile race in 2:25 and a half mile race on the State Fair at 2:50. The horse started at Canton and Rumford Falls, securing second money at both places.

Through the Midway.

The fairs began to get on the grounds Saturday and from there on there has been a steady stream of them pouring in. Monday everything was bustle and getting ready for the big fair which promises to be the best and most successful ever held on the grounds.
W. J. Kerrigan of Portland has Rino Blonzo on the outside and the best bottled beer on the inside.
Harold Harris, wife and daughter, takes your photo and finishes it up in fine style.
C. E. Welch of New York, who came here from Concord, has the great Indian Mystery. It is the wonder of the world, being the mummified bodies of Indians taken from Arizona, the bodies being found in a cave four miles from Pruto. Dudley and White of Hampton Beach take first-class photos. They were here last year with another show and liked the place so well that they returned this year.
F. J. Dea of Hampton Beach, N. H., has a celebrated African dodger, James Bennett, born in Africa and imported at great expense. Gaze at his red neck tie.
Michael Connolly of Portland, soft drinks and frankfruits.
McKeen & Gupit, Bethel, have a merry-go-round going and it is well patronized.
M. J. Milligan, cigars, soft drinks and frankfruits.
A. Golicourer of Lewiston sells soft drinks and cigars.
J. W. Kerrigan, or better known as the Portland fruit boy, is on the Fair grounds with a fine line of cigars, soft drinks, frankfruits and also a choice line of fruits.
M. L. Beluboor of Lewiston, cigars, frankfruits and all kinds of soft drinks.
Matthew Perry of Old Orchard has a great freak of nature, the frog boy show. Cordwell and Thomas of Paris, soft drinks, cigars, ice cream, etc.
A. N. Spencer of Oldtown, who has been here in former years, is on the grounds this year with his lunch wagon.
O. N. Spencer of Oldtown, the candy man who has been with us for nine years, greeting his old friends and selling a fine line of candies, salted peanuts and ice cream.
W. H. Winchester of Berlin, N. H., has the kicking mule, Mand.
S. Anderson of Boston has three stands, knife rack, Cone Island dolls and frankfruits and lemonade.
A. Kampenaar of Waterville. One of the best attractions on the ground is Minnie Fort. This little woman comes from the western part of Australia, stands 3 feet, 9 inches, weighs 39 pounds, has the strength of two men combined and has a head no larger than a monkey. She has been a great attraction all over the United States and in Europe.
Dog and Monkey Show, performing dogs, monkeys and ponies. This was one of the greatest attractions at the Lewiston fair.
Blanchi, South Paris, fruits of all kinds.
G. W. Foster of South Frimingham, Mass., Cafe.

September Farm Work.

September is the month most chosen for sowing grass seed without grain, and I have known it to be sown very late in the month and produce a good crop.
There is no better way of improving the corn crop than to go through the field before any of the corn is ripe and mark the earliest and best ears by tying a bit of string around them that they may be saved for seed when husking. If the best ears from stalks that bear two ears are saved, it increases the tendency to produce two or more ears on a stalk.
I have little doubt that the yield of our potato crop could be greatly increased if the seed was selected while digging by taking it only from the most prolific hills, regardless of size excepting to get such as were fully ripe. Seed from pumpkins, squashes, melons, orcumbers and tomatoes should be saved from perfect specimens grown on productive vines, and from them only, and the seed beans and peas from rows that seed purposes.
Every year comes the query from some section: Is it best to dig the potatoes as early as the vines die down? If they are beginning to rot will they not rot after they are dug as badly as they would in the ground? My experience indicates that potatoes do not increase much in the ground after the vines are thoroughly dead which is usually within a week after the leaves drop off, and that in those in which rot has started it may be checked by digging and drying them in the sun, not long enough to turn them green, which makes them poisonous, but till the dirt will shake off them in the handling, and then putting them in a cool but dry cellar or other place. It is said by those who know that potatoes planted deep will not rot.

I would not topdress grass-land with barn-yard manure in September if I had a lot of land and an abundance of manure. But it would pay to pile up the manure in the yards, barn cellars, pig-pens and stables and allow it to heat or ferment, working it over as soon as the smell of escaping ammonia indicated fermentation and covering it with soil or a little land plaster to absorb the ammonia and by repeating this process getting it fine enough to spread upon the grass land late in October or early in November.
While the manure spreader is of great value in doing up the lump and scattering manure evenly, there is an advantage in having the manure so rotten and mixed together that each square yard will receive about the same percentage of fertilizing elements as any other square yard. This working over at short intervals, mixing and making fine before the manure is spread, requires some labor, but the main object of the farmer is to obtain the best possible result for his land and pay for his labor, and sometimes this may come from putting both land and labor to uses that do not promise immediate payment, but pay in future results.

One may find spots in the fields of grass that have been killed. Such spots may be a foot square, or a half-acre in extent, yet one does not like to plow up an otherwise good grass-field to re-seed them. I have used a steel-toothed rake on such places and taken off the loose roots and weeds; then scattered a little fine rotted manure or good commercial fertilizer on them and sowing grass seed as if in new plowed land, raked it in and the next season, instead of the heaviest grass plots in a very good field.

There seems not to be much to do in the orchards excepting to harvest the early fruits and get them into market.
The standard bushel box used in Boston markets is the best in New England for early apples and pears certainly, and it or its equivalent is rapidly coming in favor for the export trade.

Currents, gooseberries and raspberries need to have old moss-grown wood cut out of them and destroyed by fire, and cuttings may be taken for settings if one desires to increase the area devoted to such crops. Manuring them should not begin until November.

The care needed by the cows now is only to see that they have green food enough to prevent them from shrinking in milk or flesh. If there is a dry season cut down cornfields, grass or anything to make good the failure in the pasture.
A shrinkage now cannot be regained by more bountiful feeding later on.

Look Out For Pickpockets.

At the recent State Fair at Lewiston some people from this vicinity were lied of their pocketbooks. The police found as many as eight wallets in a pile. The money had been taken and the books, with notes and valuable paper left. They found the way back to their owners less the money of course.
Rodney N. Hall of South Paris will tell you how it seems to loose your pocketbook and money, also A. M. Penley of the same town—but they didn't get his money, only a small package from his pocket that was not money. A Mr. Al-bott of Norway and a man from Bethel lost pocketbooks.

Look out for pickpockets. They may light on you unawares—when you don't know it.

Look out for them we say—they may not be here—but it's well to be on the safe side.

Run Out, but Have Rebuilt.
"On the morning of April 21st, our fitting shop with lots of other property, went up in smoke and down in ashes, but we have rebuilt on the old site and are doing business just the same."
This is what W. P. Maxim, of S. P.
Maxim & Son, said to the other day and it is a fact too. They rebuilt at once and are doing a kind of wood work and wood fitting, doors, moulding, windows, etc.

Mr. Maxim says they have sold over one hundred thousand square feet of Paroid Roofing since last May. It costs only a trifle more than half whatingles do and he feels pretty sure it will last or wear as long as shingles. His house was covered with Paroid Roofing and because of this it did not burn while the ell and shed did burn. For further particulars speak to Walter F. Maxim and he will convince you that "Paroid" is a good thing for the money.

A lady who thinks business men ought to advertise sends in the following: Breathes there a man with soul so dead that to himself has never said:—
"My trade of late is getting bad, I'll have another 10-cent ad." If such there be, go mark him well. For him no bank account shall swell, no angel watch the golden stair to welcome home a millionaire. To such a man the noisy din of traffic may not enter in, for bargain seekers by the score shall pass, nor heed his dingy door. Tread lightly, friends, let no rude sound disturb his solitude profound. So let him live in calm repose, unsought except by men he owes. And when he dies, go him plant deep, that naught breaks his dreamless sleep, when no rude clamor may dispel the quiet that he loves so well, and that the world may know its loss, place on his grave a wreath of moss and on the stone above, "Here lies a chump who would not advertise."

J. F. Howland's large automobile was driven up over Pike's hill, Friday, down the back hill and around by the lake road. It was a fine sight to see the large 50-horse power machine with the high as steadily and as fast as it would run on level ground. The chauffeur, K. F.
Gagnon, thoroughly enjoys this big auto.
He is a careful driver, and does all in his power not to frighten horses with the machine.

The Bridgton Farmers' and Mechanics'
